Headline:
Windy with scattered blustery showers.

Today:
Early cloud and any lingering rain across Kent soon easing away east. Otherwise dry, but windy with variable cloud and sunny spells. Scattered showers spreading east through the afternoon, heavy and blustery at times, although some parts staying dry throughout. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry evening for most, with clear spells, but the odd shower remains possible along the south coast. These spreading inland after midnight, becoming widespread and turning heavy at times. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Monday:
Early showers becoming restricted to the far southeast. Otherwise a fine morning, with sunny spells, but rather breezy. Further scattered showers developing through the afternoon, although many parts staying dry. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Cloud and rain spreading east Tuesday, windy at times. Rather cloudy start Wednesday, with some rain possible, but also brighter spells later. Drier Thursday, with sunny spells and variable cloud.
